Exclusionary, discriminatory, and unnecessary regulations constitute formidable barriers to affordable housing, raising costs by 20% to 35% in some communities.

The Affordable Housing Incentives Module is regulatory. It is written with "shall" language to be inserted into the Base Code with little or no modification. The extent to which this content may be implemented is subject to state law and local political support. If the municipality is unable to mandate these standards, they may be changed to "should" language, especially where "shall" appears in colored text, or included in a separate set of design guidelines.

1.X AFFORDABLE HOUSING INCENTIVES
See also the notes for the Incentives Module, subsections 1.X.1a, g & h. Other incentives may be added particular to the local situation. For example, if there are oversized lots in an area where the community supports adding affordable housing, a subdivision incentive may be possible, whereby a property owner can create a substandard lot if it is dedicated to a deed-restricted affordable unit.

Municipalities may want to specify a percentage of affordable housing after which the incentives would apply. It is important to design affordable units so that there is no discernable outward difference between them and nearby market rate units.
